Don't invest unless you're prepared to lose all the money you invest. This is a high-risk investment and you should not expect to be protected if something goes wrong

Please spare a couple of minutes to understand this better. The Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) categorizes this investment as high risk due to the potential for losses - for the United Kingdom.

What are the primary risks?

1. Potential Total Loss: Crypto assets are highly volatile. Their value can plummet as rapidly as it can soar, and you should be ready to lose all the money you invest in crypto assets. The crypto asset market is mostly unregulated, and there's a risk of losing money or any crypto assets you buy due to cyber-attacks, financial crime, and company failure.

2. Lack of Protection: The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) does not cover this type of investment because it's not a 'specified investment' under the UK regulatory regime. In other words, the FSCS does not recognize this type of investment as one it can protect. You can learn more by using the FSCS investment protection checker: <https://www.fscs.org.uk/check/investment-protection-checker> Additionally, the Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS) will not be able to handle complaints related to this firm. You can learn more about FOS protection on their website: <https://www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk/consumers>

3. Sale Limitations: There's no guarantee that investments in crypto assets can be easily sold at any given time. The ability to sell a crypto asset depends on various factors, including market supply and demand at that time. Operational issues such as technology outages, cyber-attacks, and fund commingling could cause unwanted delays, and you may be unable to sell your crypto assets when you want.

4. Complexity of Crypto Asset Investments: Crypto asset investments can be complex and hard to understand. You should conduct your own research before investing. If something appears too good to be true, it likely is.

5. Diversification is Key: Investing all your money into a single type of investment is risky. Diversifying your investments reduces your dependence on any one investment doing well. A good rule of thumb is not to invest more than 10% of your money in high-risk investments. You can learn more about this on the FCA's website. <https://www.fca.org.uk/investsmart/5-questions-ask-you-invest>

If you're interested in learning more about how to protect yourself, visit the FCA's website. <https://www.fca.org.uk/investsmart> For additional information about crypto assets, visit the FCA's website. <https://www.fca.org.uk/investsmart/crypto-basics>
